DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 3 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 3 recites the limitation "the means for securing" in line 1. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 5 recites the limitation "the holes" in line 1 and line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. The examiner suggests changing "holes" to "apertures".

The claims have been examined as best understood.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1,2,5 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Staiger (US 3,619,478).

Art Unit: 2831

Regarding claim 1, Staiger discloses in Fig. 7 a fixture comprising an upper apertured foil (6,7) and a lower aperture foil (also 6,7). A means for maintaining the foils in a spaced apart relationship, the apertures being in registration. a plurality of pins 5 having a support end and a base end, the support end passing through an aperture in the upper foil and the base end resting against a back plane (9).

Regarding claim 2, the fixture could be seen through when the pins are not in place due to the apertures.

Regarding claim 5, the pins and apertures inherently prevent lateral displacement when they are received in the hole due to the structure of the foils and spacing frame.

Regarding claim 6, the means for maintaining a spaced apart relationship is a spacer frame (8).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claims 3 and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Staiger (US 3,619,478).

Regarding claim 3, the means for securing is not described as a magnetic plate. Examiner takes Official Notice that a magnetic plate is well known in the electronics art for its conductive material securing properties. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the magnetic material, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.

Regarding claim 4, Staiger discloses the claimed invention except for the pin is not U-shaped at the base end. It would have been an obvious matter of design choice for the base end of the pin to be U-shaped since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the shape of a component. Where the instant specification and evidence of record fail to attribute any significance (novel or unexpected results) to a particular shape, a change of shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art. Span-Deck Inc. V. FabCon, Inc., 215 USPQ 835.

Art Unit: 2831

Conclusion

8. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure:

Neumann (US 4,859,188) shows spaced apart foils having pins passing through apertures in the foils (see Fig. 5).

DeSilva et al. (US Pub 2004/0026444) shows a pin support frame having an array of apertures for supporting the pins (see element 32 in Fig. 3).
